

"How can I build a verified record of my research activities, with automatic updating, and that is interoperable with all the different institutions, funders, and publishers I work with?"

All about ORCID

<https://orcid.org/>

ORCID is portable and enduring

Your iD is yours throughout your career, no matter where you work, who funds you, whether your name or field of research changes, or if your name appears in different forms in different places, e.g.

Also known as

Sofía María, S. M. García, S. M. Hernández, S. M. García Hernández

What is ORCID?

Your ORCID iD is a unique number which identifies you as a researcher. ORCID is an international, interdisciplinary, open, non-proprietary, and not-for-profit organization.

Why should you register?

Your iD:

- distinguishes you and ensures your research outputs and activities are correctly attributed to you
- reliably and easily connects you with your contributions and affiliations
- reduces form-filling (enter data once, re-use it often)
- improves recognition and discoverability for you and your research outputs
- is interoperable (works with many institutions, funders, and publishers)
- is persistent (enduring)

ORCID is free

Use your iD, maintain and update your record, share your information, and search the Registry for free.

Sofia Maria Garcia Hernandez

ORCID ID

 <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-2771-9344>

You're in control

Register for your ORCID iD today, and stand out in the sea of researchers. You control when and where you use your iD. You manage connections to your iD, including deciding who gets to add what information, and whether and by whom this data may be viewed and accessed.

Watch the WHY ORCID video to learn more

SIGN IN where you see iD

Signing in, also called authentication, ensures that only you can access your ORCID record, and enables you to control who has permissions to access or update your record.